

MANSLAUGHTER ACTION WILL BE TRIED TUESDAY

The Adams County Court will conclude its trial sessions Tuesday, it was decided Friday afternoon when the week-long hearings closed with one case still to be decided.

The last trial on the list, the involuntary manslaughter charge against David S. Jones, 32, Chambersburg, will be held Tuesday, starting at 9:30 a.m. A jury of 14 members was drawn Friday afternoon for the Tuesday case, and the remainder of the jurors for the August term were excused finally with the thanks of the court.

Jones is charged with aggravated assault and battery by automobile and involuntary manslaughter in connection with an auto accident July 6 at the intersection of the Lincoln Highway and Buchanan Valley road near Caledonia. Mrs. Rae Weaver, 49, wife of Stanford W. Weaver, Biglerville R. 1, and mother of nine children, was fatally injured in the crash near the crest of Mt. Newman.

Jury Is Selected

Named to the jury are: Horner Cashman, Littleton Twp.; Mrs. Myrna Wagner, Butler Twp.; S. M. Keagy, Littlestown; Radford H. Lippy, Gettysburg; Mrs. Bertha Martz, Gettysburg; Mrs. Julia Myers, Mt. Joy Twp.; Irvin Gross, Reading Twp.; John Byers, Littlestown; Clyde Andrew, Franklin Twp.; Leo Smith, Oxford Twp.; George Eberhart, Gettysburg; Walter Sheely, Germany Twp.; Rodney C. Eline, McSherrystown, and Mrs. Margaret S. Brown, Gettysburg. Fourteen were selected instead of 12 in case of illness on the part of any jurymen by Tuesday. With the two alternates, a 12-member jury could still hear the case.

The last case heard Friday afternoon was one of the shortest on record. The trial of Nicholas Zemo, Fairfield R. 1, on a charge of assault and battery was concluded in less than an hour, from the time the first juror was drawn until the jury returned its verdict.

Zemo Is Convicted

Ira W. McClain, a neighbor of Zemo, and his wife, appeared for the prosecution.

Zemo and his son were the two defense witnesses.

Defense Attorney Charles W. Wolf spent less than five minutes in addressing the jury. He admitted that Zemo was "technically guilty" but stressed "provocation." District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter spent five minutes in his talk to the jury. Judge Sheely prefaced his remarks by saying, "this is the shortest charge I have ever made to a jury." He told them the law states that "when someone grabs or hits another person he is guilty of assault and battery." He then asked the jury if it wanted to retire to make its decision, or whether it wished to announce a decision without leaving the jury box.

The jury decided to leave and returned four minutes later with the decision that Zemo was guilty. Radford H. Lippy was foreman of the jury.

Other members of the jury were Mrs. Fern Lookenbill, New Oxford; Mrs. Julia A. Myers, Mt. Joy Twp.; George Eberhart, Gettysburg; Dorothy Naugle, Gettysburg; Ralph Kuntz, Menallen Twp.; Hattie R. Deip, Huntingdon Twp.; R. O. Wolfe, New Oxford; Raymond Day, Berwick Twp.; Irvin Gross, Reading Twp.; Charles C. Smith, Straban Twp., and C. Edgar Felix, Cumberland Twp.

Martin Is Acquitted

Another jury Friday afternoon found Fulton C. Martin, Greenstone, innocent of a charge of larceny in connection with the theft of a pocketbook containing $240 from the home of George Woodring, Greenstone.

Snowball Bloom Found In August

Mrs. Grace Marshall, who resides in the rear of Baltimore St., today found a bloom on a snowball bush in her yard which customarily blooms only in May, she said.

Mrs. Marshall, who is 59, said: "This is the first time in my memory that I have seen a snowball blooming as late as the end of August."

The bush, a large one, had only the one bloom, Mrs. Marshall said.

Driver Falls Asleep; Auto Strikes Bridge

An automobile operated by Merle R. Noble, 18, of Hanover, ran off the highway, struck a bridge and came to rest in a creek two miles north of Hanover on Route 94 at 12:15 o'clock this morning, when the driver went to sleep at the wheel, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Noble was treated at the Hanover Hospital for a "shaking up," police said. Damage to his automobile was estimated at $400.

UPPER ADAMS SCHOOLS WILL OPEN SEPT. 4

The Upper Adams Joint Schools will open Thursday morning, September 4, at 8:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

School records indicate an enrollment of 154 first grade children, an increase of 52 over the first grade enrollment last year. Those entering school for the first time are requested to bring birth and vaccination certificates if they have not already presented them in the preschool clinic conducted last spring.

A number of class rooms in the elementary schools will be crowded until proper facilities can be provided.

Bus Routes Same

Bus routes will operate on the same schedule as last year. Revisions in bus stops will be made as soon as the bus drivers report need for them as determined when they cover the routes on the first day of school. Additional bus stop signs are expected to be necessary and a number will also be removed.

There will be a meeting of the school staff on Monday in the Biglerville High School Library. A second meeting is scheduled for 2:00 in the high school building at which time the secondary staff will meet with the high school principal and the elementary staff will meet with the principals of their respective units.

Teachers will attend the Adams County Teachers' Institute held at Gettysburg High School on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Teacher Changes

The following new teachers have been added to the staff this year: Eugene Haas will return to his position of instructor of physical education and coaching, replacing Hobart Benchoff who is being retained in the system as assistant football coach and coach of track, also teacher of health and social studies.

Harold Sanders returns from military service to the position of English and instrumental music instructor, replacing the position held by Charles Rogers, Sanders and Haas served with the 28th Division of the Pennsylvania National Guard. (Continued on Page 2)

Wife Collapses In Husband's Arms After Long Mercy Flight

SIoux CITY, Ia. (AP) — A small, polio-stricken girl, not knowing of the tragedy that has struck her family, eagerly awaited the return today of her father who was lifted off a military transport at sea and flown here yesterday.

The girl, 6-year-old Kathleen Buggy, is in a Sioux City hospital with polio—the same disease that took the life of her younger brother Charles Jr., 4, last Tuesday.

Her father, Air Force T. Sgt. Charles R. Buggy, joined his grief-stricken family here last night after a combined mercy flight by the Coast Guard and Air Force.

The 28-year-old soldier plans to visit his daughter this afternoon after he and his wife, 26, go to their Winnebago, Neb., home to make funeral arrangements for their son.

Has Some New Dollies

"As long as Kathy seems to be coming along fine and doesn't know I'm here yet, I don't want to upset the hospital routine," Buggy said.

The little girl, lying in her hospital crib with several pretty dolls by her side, grinned and said, "I've got some new dollies to show him."

Kathy also is unaware of her mother's critical illness.

Mrs. Buggy, now a frail 89 pounds after losing 31 pounds since March, has a spinal ailment. Surgeons have hesitated to operate

LATE PEACHES MAKE DEBUT ON MARKET TODAY

Late varieties of peaches, including Elberta and Belle of Georgia, made their first appearance on the Farmers Market this morning, at 20 cents a quart box, 30 cents for a two-quart box and $2 a bushel. Another newcomer was the Yellow Cling variety which sold for $1 a half bushel.

Today's market session was the last, growers said, for some of the earlier varieties of peaches, including Sun High and Hiley Belle. They brought mostly $2 to $2.50 a bushel, with some selling as high as $3. Recommended as good canning peaches, Shipper's Red brought $2.50 a bushel.

Supplies of corn were beginning to taper off on the market today, and the price dropped from 50 to 40 cents a dozen ears. Most of today's supply was Stowell's Evergreen. Quality was good.

Tomatoes Are Plentiful

Tomatoes were still plentiful and in good demand, at 25 cents a quart box and $1.25 for a half-bushel basket. Plums sold for 25 cents a quart and crab apples at 25 cents a quart. Early peaches, 45 cents a half peck, and early varieties of apples sold for 25 cents a quarter peck, 45 cents a half peck and $2 a half bushel.

Sweet potatoes were 35 cents a quart and other potatoes 35 cents a quarter peck, 65 cents a half peck and $1.25 a peck. Shelled lima beans were 35 cents a pint, 65 cents a quart; green and yellow beans, 15 and 20 cents a quart. Beets were ten cents a bunch; pattypan squash, 10 and 15 cents each; pumpkins, 10, 15 and 25 cents each; cabbage, six cents a pound; peppers, two for five cents and five cents each; cucumbers, small, one cent each; larger, three for five and five cents each; broccoli, 20 cents a bunch.

Grapes Are On Sale

Grapes made their appearance on the market today, selling mostly at 25 cents a quart box.

There was little or no change in the price of eggs, large whites and browns still selling for 75 cents a dozen at most market stalls, with extra large priced at 78 cents a dozen. Mediums were 65 cents a dozen.

Other prices included whipping cream, 40 cents a pint; potato salad, 25 cents a pint; cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint; bread, 20 cents a loaf; rolls, 20 cents a dozen; cookies, 30 and 35 cents a dozen; pies, 40 and 50 cents, and cakes, $1 and $1.25.

Hurricane Is Slowing Down

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hurricane, wallowing in the Atlantic Ocean 120 miles east southeast of Jacksonville, Fla., today gave evidence of slowing down in forward movement and changing its direction of movement to a more northerly course.

The Weather Bureau in a 5:30 a.m., EST, advisory, said the storm is located near latitude 29.7 north, longitude 79.5 west.

Strongest winds are estimated at 85 miles an hour near the center. Gales extend outward 150 miles in the northern semicircle and 50 to 60 miles to the south of center.

The Weather Bureau said winds will increase on the Georgia and South Carolina coasts, possibly reaching gale force. Tides will be abnormally high. Extreme North-west Florida will have strong shifting winds which, the bureau said, may reach gale force early today.

On Rotation Leave

The grim-faced, moustached sergeant stepped off an Air Force B25 here on the final leg of a relay race by air to speed him home. He was on rotation leave aboard the transport Gen. Alexander Patch en route to the U. S. when word reached the ship Thursday noon that he was to be taken off.

An Air Force amphibian plane set down alongside the transport about 500 miles at sea in the Atlantic Ocean. The plane was disabled when it collided with a life boat lowered from the ship.

Wife Collapses

A Coast Guard amphibious craft then was sent to the ship and flew Buggy to Salem, Mass. A small plane carried him to Beverly, Mass., where a B25 picked him up. Buggy was met at the Sioux City Air Force Base by relatives. During the ride into town he first learned of his son's death.

The shocked and silent soldier was met at the door by his wife. "Honey," he whispered, then embraced her, "Hannah, Hannah," he cried, as she collapsed in his arms.

A third child, Charlyce, 14 months, is with Mrs. Buggy's mother.

Lincoln Pageant October 18

The Western Maryland Railway Company's reenactment of President Lincoln's visit to Gettysburg on November 18 and 19, 1863, will be presented on Saturday afternoon, October 18, Eugene S. Williams, chairman of the road's board of directors, announced today.

The October 18 date was selected, Mr. Williams said, at the request of Andrew J. Sordani, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, who asked that the event, which had been planned originally for late September, be made a part of the observance of Pennsylvania Week.

The Commonwealth, the Lincoln Fellowship, and the National Park Service are cooperating in the presentation, "Mr. Lincoln Goes to Gettysburg."

"It was the Western Maryland which transported Mr. Lincoln and his party to and from Gettysburg on the momentous occasion of his immortal address," Mr. Williams said today, in announcing the date of the presentation.

"Linked, therefore, as it is with this epochal event in American history, it is considered appropriate that the Western Maryland initiate and sponsor the pageant as a means of re-presenting the inspiring appeal by one of the nation's truly great presidents to the people for a re-dedication to the principles of liberty and justice upon which the fabric of our government is woven."

More Doctors And Dentists Will Be Drafted Next Year

A doctor's chances of staying out of uniform are getting slimmer, with thousands to be called into the armed services in the months ahead, according to an article in the August 29 issue of "U. S. News and World Report."

The magazine says that in the next 24 months the draft is likely to reach many doctors who thought themselves fairly safe from recall because they are veterans of World War II.

"Demand for doctors in the armed forces is high and creeping upward," the article says. In the first year of the Korean War to June 30, 1951, with military strength rising, the armed forces took 4,700 physicians and 2,700 dentists.

In the second year, ending June 30, 1952, only about 2,000 physicians and 1,500 dentists were called, but in the third year which will end June 30, 1953, the services will need 5,900 doctors and 3,500 dentists to replace those whose service is ending this year. Estimates for the fourth year are 4,100 doctors and 1,700 dentists and for the fifth year, 7,200 physicians and 4,500 dentists.

By contrast, the supply is strictly limited. The group of young physicians and dentists who were deferred and in some cases given financial aid to complete their education during World War II is near exhaustion, says the article.

"Man-power officials already are combing through Priority III, the physicians and dentists who have not served in the armed forces since September 16, 1940. About 33,000 physicians and 15,000 dentists are registered in Priority II, but some already are 51 years old, no longer eligible for drafting. A high percentage will be found physically unfit. Many will be found essential at home, since the group consists largely of older, experienced men. For the same reason, not many of them can be drafted as junior medical officers, for which the need is greatest."

By 1954, says the magazine, the armed forces probably will have to turn to Priority IV, which includes doctors who served in World War II. Military planners see no alternative to substantial drafting of younger doctors who are veterans unless the armed forces are reduced.

Littlestown JOANNE DEHOFF IS WINNER OF BEAUTY TITLE

Miss JoAnne DeHoff, a senior at the Littlestown High School, was crowned "Miss Adams County Firemen" as the winner of the fourth annual beauty contest held by the Kingsdale Fire Company carnival Thursday evening. Miss DeHoff was chosen the winner over seven other entrants. Attired in a white lace evening gown, the crown was placed on her head by Miss Kathryn Eckenrode, who was winner of the 1951 contest. The Queen was awarded $50 in cash, the loving cup and a corsage.

Selected as second place winner was Irene Koonitz, W. King St., who received $30 and a corsage. She wore a blue net gown. Catherine Nusbaum, Taneytown, won the third prize of $20 and a corsage. Miss Nusbaum was crowned in white net.

The five other contestants, each of whom received a corsage, included Jean Dillon, Gettysburg; Eileen Davidson, St. Charlesburg, Pa.; Marion Heiser, Mary Pickering and Helen Wintrobe, all of Littlestown R. D. The judges were Earl Crouse, Littlestown R. D.; John D. Lippy, Gettysburg, and L. William Collins, Gettysburg R. D.

As the contestants paraded on the stage decorated with potted ferns and palms, music was played on the Hammond organ by Esther Crouse Feeder. Ned Rutledge served as master of ceremonies.

Iran Offered Oil Agreement Including $10 Million Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain today proposed a three point settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil crisis, including a grant of $10,000,000 from the United States to Iran.

The offer was made personally by President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill to Iranian Premier Mossadegh.

This extraordinary personal participation by the two western leaders stressed the gravity with which London and Washington regard the possibility of a Communist seizure of power in the strategic Middle Eastern country.

The President and prime minister said they "sincerely hope" their proposals for action will meet Mossadegh's "approval and result in a satisfactory solution." The three proposals were presented by the ambassadors in Tehran at 3:30 p. m., Tehran time (7:30 a. m. EST).

In essence they are:

1. Submission to the world court of the question of compensation to

Local Band Gives Concert On Friday

The Gettysburg Blue and Gray Band presented a concert Friday night on the lawn of Post 15, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Carlisle St. The band was conducted by Prof. Harold Sanders, Biglerville, in the absence of Charles Rogers, regular director.

At least three more outdoor concerts are planned by the band before the arrival of cold weather. A concert will be presented in the south end of town next week.

Following the concert the musicians were guests of the VFW when refreshments were provided by post officials.

Monday the band will accompany the Gettysburg Fire Company to New Oxford to participate in the annual County Firemen's Association parade. Members desiring transportation are requested to be at the fire engine house at 2:30 in full uniform.

Allied Losses In Devastating Raid In Korea Are Negligible

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Few if any U. N. warplanes were lost on Friday's record dawn-to-dusk strike against Communist Army and political nerve centers and factories at Pyongyang, the capital of North Korea, the U. S. Fifth Air Force indicated today.

The Navy said none of its carrier-based fighter-bombers which flew 250 of the record 1,443 individual flights over Pyongyang was shot down. In its summary for the week ended Friday, the Air Force said three U. N. planes were lost to ground fire and one to unexplained causes the past seven days. Whether they were on the Pyongyang raid was not disclosed.

Seventeen Japan-based B-29 Superforts last night followed up the three-wave Pyongyang assault with a raid on newly repaired Red power installations at the Changjin Reservoir in Northeast Korea.

M. T. WALTER TO HEAD PMA UNIT

Martin T. Walter, Biglerville R. D. farmer and school bus driver, was re-elected chairman of the Adams County Production and Marketing Administration Committee Friday evening at a meeting of delegates from the six PMA districts in the county held at the PMA office on York St.

Walter, who was chairman of the U. S. farm program when it was established in the early 1930s, has served on the county committee in various capacities since that time. He has been chairman for the past several years.

Roy A. Weaver, Gettysburg R. 4, was re-elected a member of the county committee, and named vice chairman. Howard S. Schwartz, Littlestown R. 1, was elected a member of the county group.

Selected as alternates for the board were C. F. Cashman, New Oxford R. 2, and R. Bruce Wetzel, Biglerville R. D.

Following the election the group discussed the forthcoming program of the PMA including plans for a survey of all farms in the county during October, November and December to determine needs of the county farms for such PMA projects as lime, fertilizer, drainage, and other conservation practices.

FEASTER GIVEN SIX MONTHS IN COURT SENTENCE

Elvin Feaster Jr., 231 S. Washington St., was sentenced to six months in the Adams County jail and ordered to pay $100 for the use of the county and costs by the Adams County court this morning.

Feaster was charged with involuntary manslaughter and drunken driving in connection with an automobile accident June 6, six miles south of Gettysburg on the Emmitsburg Road, in which Lawrence Kettoman, Fairfield, was fatally injured. Feaster had entered a nolo contendere plea to the charges.

State Policeman George Evanko told the court that Kettoman and his brother had parked their car at the side of the highway following a blow-out of a tire and were preparing to change the tire when Feaster sideswiped the car and hit Kettoman, hurling him 104 feet. The Feaster car then continued on a distance of 188 feet from the Kettoman car before coming to rest after having also struck a stone pile and a utility pole. Feaster, Evanko said, admitted to having drunk three beers before the accident and was pronounced drunk by Dr. Bruce N. Wolff at the Warner Hospital after the fatal crash.

Given Good Character

Feaster's attorneys presented a number of character witnesses including Mrs. Ruth Norris, Orrtanna R. 1; Rev. Herbert N. Brownlee, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Feaster's father, Mrs. Norris, who said she had known the family for years as a storekeeper and Sunday School teacher, described young Feaster as "one of our young people in whom we have pride and in whom we rejoice."

Judge W. C. Sheely and Associate Judges George P. Taylor and A. Dale Knouse said they were impressed with the sincerity of the character witnesses but could not overlook the fact that "a death was caused either by his recklessness or by his drunkenness."

Recommend "Cooperation"

Nicholas Zemo, Fairfield R. 1, who was found guilty Friday by a county jury of assault and battery, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation of one year, and ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and costs.

Judge Sheely, speaking for the court, told Zemo, "From reports we have received we understand you are not too cooperative with the people of your community and we suggest that you change your attitude toward the community."

A hearing was held in connection with the sentencing of Theodore J. Wiseman, Pittsburgh. Dr. Joseph Baker and Dr. Harry B. Oringer, Pittsburgh, both testified that incarceration would aggravate his condition. Dr. Oringer said Wiseman, who was charged with false pretense in connection with the sale of aluminum siding in Adams County, has been "going down hill mentally since an accident May 21, near Kane, Pa." The court said it would decide on Wiseman's sentence later.

MECO REQUESTS RATE DECREASE

An official of the Metropolitan Edison here said today proposed reduction in rates, as requested of the Public Utilities Commission, would be small when broken down to individual commercial users in the district covered by the Adams County office and churches within the district.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission today studied a request from the Metropolitan Edison Co., Reading, for authorization to reduce rates to more than 4,500 industrial and commercial customers by $96,000 a year, effective Oct. 31.

The company included in its request a special provision that could cut the cost of electric power for churches by $16,000 a year.

The proposed schedule would revise base charges and set up a fuel adjustment clause which raises or lowers bills in line with the utility's coal costs.

The company serves Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, York, Berks, Lancaster, Lebanon, Chester, Lehigh, Montgomery, Bucks, Monroe, Northampton and Pike counties.

FIVE MARINES SAFE IN CRASH NEAR MEADVILLE

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Five U. S. Marines, four of them football players on the Parris Island, S. C. service team, escaped serious injury early today when their twin engine airplane crashed landed a half mile east of this Northwestern Pennsylvania community.

The plane, piloted by Tech. Sgt. Thomas Lyons, 32, of Santa Ana, Calif., crashed into a ravine only a few hundred yards from the Hillcrest housing development.

The four passengers, flying home on a week end pass, were Sgt. Walter Bielich, 22, Youngstown, O. and Corp. George Radoschich, 24, Pfc. Gilbert Bucci, 22, and Pfc. Leo W. Elter, 22, all of Pittsburgh. Radoschich played center for the University of Pittsburgh in 1950.

Admitted To Hospital
Lyons was admitted to a local hospital for treatment of minor injuries; the others were unhurt.

Lyons said he left the Marine base at 5 p. m. (EST) yesterday and planned to land at the Pittsburgh airport but was unable to do so because of low visibility.

He said he flew north hoping to find an opening in the overcast and over Meadville, 90 miles north of Pittsburgh, the plane's gasoline supply ran out. Unable to find a wide road or level field, he crash landed into the ravine. The impact tore off the left wing and motor.

Several Meadville citizens reported the low flying craft to the fire department and searchers located the plane within a half hour after the crash.

U. N. planes bombed and strafed Communist targets other than Pyongyang Friday to boost the day's total of flights to a record 1,775.

U. S. Air Force, Marine and Navy carrier planes converged over Pyongyang after civilians had been warned by radio and leaflet to flee. Australian, South African and South Korean planes joined in the assault.

U. S. Sabre jet pilots shot down one Russian-built MIG Friday and damaged two other Red jets, the Air Force reported. No Red fighters reached Pyongyang.

Heavy Anti-Aircraft Fire

Pilots reported they flew through heavy anti-aircraft fire. They described Pyongyang as black with smoke and rocketing with explosions.

Korean-based planes dropped 618 tons of bombs and 4,000 gallons of fiery gasoline and fired 52,000 rounds on 40 targets in the ruined city.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said they knocked out 24 gun positions, 125 military, troop and supply buildings, one warehouse and two factories and got 55 hits on airfield runways.

On the Korean ground front, Communist and Allied troops sparred lightly again Friday and early today.

Temperatures dropped to between 50 and 52 degrees Friday.

COUNTY SCHOOL PLANS TO DROP GRID PROGRAM

York Springs High School will probably not have a football team this year, but formal decision to drop the sport from the school's calendar of activities was postponed at a meeting of the North Adams School Board at York Springs High School Friday night.

Board President M. S. Hershey said today "It is expected that we will drop football, but no formal decision can be made by the board until we are released from previously scheduled games. We have received a number of letters from various school boards, but we want to have releases from the PIAA and the other schools before formally abandoning the sport."

Much of the session was given to routine matters in connection with the opening of school Thursday. Supervising Principal Wilbur K. Kassel reported all supplies were available for the beginning of the school year.

Bus Routes Same

Bus routes will remain for the present generally as they were last year, with changes to be made if necessary after the opening of school determines the actual location of the various students along the routes.

The board discussed the problem of overcrowding in the district's schools, but reports showed that the system will be able to take care of all students through the use of temporary structures such as the Boy Scout building at York Springs.

Any plans for building in the future will have to await a decision by the Adams County Court concerning whether a part of Huntingdon Twp. may leave the joint system, President Hershey said.

The much-disputed Pen-Mar Baseball League game between Cashtown and Littlestown will stand as previously recorded with Littlestown the winner 3-2.

Friday night at Littlestown the game was played from the point of protest. With the bases loaded in the ninth for Cashtown and one out, Sterling Singley was sent in to pinchhit for Clark Rebert and died to Harry Strine in short left field. Douglas Allison, who was on third, attempted to score and was thrown out at the plate by Strine to end the game.

SEVEN COMICS BANNED TO TARS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Twelfth Naval District sailors whose literary taste runs to comic books today found their source of supply restricted.

Seven comic books, assailed as "designed to undermine morale," have been placed on a list by the district, which advised officers to keep them out of the hands of susceptible sailors.

A Navy spokesman, who declined to name the books because they were "classified," described the banned books as "stressing fear," but not necessarily subversive.

Cites One Comic

He cited as an example one comic showing two servicemen on a grave digging detail. One says to the other, "All I've done since I'm out here in Korea is burying my buddies." The other replies, "Better than being shot at the front."

A magazine dealer, W. J. Seeley, told reporters the larger distributors were ordered by the Navy about two months ago to stop sending "crime or war" comics to shore exchanges and ships.

"All they got now," another distributor said, "is weird stuff, supernatural, Westerns and kiddie comic books."

RED SOX LOSE DOUBLE-HEADER TO ATHLETICS

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians, separated by only one game in the rugged American League pennant race, were casting a wary eye over their shoulders today at Jimmy Dykes' Philadelphia Athletics.

Dykes' darlings, like the St. Louis Cardinals of another era, are up to their usual late season shenanigans. In the past the A's got hot too late but this time they have a chance to go all the way in the stretch run.

Yesterday, as Cleveland reduced the Yanks' lead to one game by beating Detroit, 4-2, while the Yanks bowed, 3-2, to Washington, the A's swept a two-night double-header from the third place Boston Red Sox, 6-1 and 7-5.

Pushing Red Sox
The sweep moved the Athletics to within 1½ games of the fading Red Sox and to within six of the Yanks. Six games at this stage of the race is not too big an obstacle to overcome especially when you have a pitcher like Bobby Shantz.

Shantz, the major's top winner, is not the only ace Dykes has. Harry Byrd and Carl Scheib are lending a helping hand on the mound while Ferris Fain, Gus Zernial and Eddie Joost are sparking the attack. Fain leads the league in batting with a .337 mark while Zernial is third in the home run derby with 26, only one behind the co-leaders, Yogi Berra of the Yanks and Larry Doby of Cleveland. Zernial also shows the way in runs batted in with 91.

The A's have 28 games left to play including nine with the Yanks and three with Cleveland. They have nine games remaining at home and 19 on the road.

Tenth For Scheib

Scheib, who won only one game and lost 12 last year, turned in his 10th victory for the A's in his first game. He permitted only seven hits. Allie Clark and Fain led the A's assault. Clark knocked in three runs on a double and two singles and Fain accounted for a pair with his second home run of the season.

The A's pulled the nightcap out with a three-run rally in the eighth inning. Joost climaxed this game-winning rally with a two-run double off old Al Benton. Starter Charlie Bishop, who bowed out for a pinchhitter in the big eighth, gained his second victory without a loss.

Bob Lemon turned in his 17th victory for the Indians in beating Virgil (Double No-hit) Trucks at Detroit. Lemon granted six hits in posting his ninth triumph in his last 10 decisions. The Indians led 2-1 until the sixth inning when Luke Easter iced the decision with a two-run homer, his 23rd.

Homers Beat Yankees

Home runs by Gil Coan and Jim Busby ruined the Yankees. Coan whacked his third of the season in the eighth inning to tie the score at 1-1 and Busby banged his first of the year in the ninth with Floyd Baker aboard to win the game.

Walt Masterson went all he way for the Senators and was solved for only six safeties including a two-out pinch-hit homer in the ninth by Johnny Mize. Vic Raschi, gunning for his 16th conquest, was charged with his fourth defeat.

The Chicago Cubs defeated the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers in the only National League game. Warren Hacker checked the Dodgers on four hits including Roy Campanella's 20th homer in the seventh. Campanella's clout tied the score but the Cubs came back in their half to win, scoring three runs on six hits including a triple by Roy Smalley. Preacher Roe was the losing pitcher, suffering his second defeat of the season, both at the hands of Chicago.

Eastern League

Ben Cardoni, who has made but one start but boasts a 14-2 record, snuffed out a Scranton rally in the ninth inning last night to enable Albany to score an 8-7 victory and to stay four and a half games in front in the Eastern League.

Second place Binghamton kept pace by running their victory string to seven with a 7-4 victory over the Elmira Pioneers.

At Hartford, the Chiefs were forced to play Reading with a makeshift team after four players were injured in a car-truck collision while en route to the game. The Indians won, 3-1.

Schenectady gained the dubious distinction of being the first team this year to be shut out by Williamsport. The bottom-rung Tigers breezed to a 3-0 victory behind the eight-hit pitching of Jim Bunning.

None of the Hartford players was injured seriously. Shortstop Joseph Morgan, 21, was admitted to a hospital for observation. Pitcher Charles Bicknell, 23, third baseman Billy Porter, 24, and Gerald Levinson, 24, were released after treatment.

BULLETS BANK ON BERKY WARD AT QUARTERBACK

Gettysburg College's football team expects to have one of the finest small college quarterbacks in the country this season operating its T-formation in the person of Eugene "Berky" Ward.

Ward, who stands 5.9 and weighs 150, formerly starred for Westmore High School of the Southern Pennsylvania Conference. When "Hen" Bream, Gettysburg College coach who resigned at the close of the 1951 season, saw him in action against the local high school he decided to sell him on entering Gettysburg.

After a mediocre season in 1950, Ward found himself a year ago. Against Franklin and Marshall in a Thanksgiving Day clash last year, Berky completed 14 consecutive passes to lead the Bullets to a 40-20 rout of their traditional rivals.

Ward, who can punt, run and place-kick better than the average college player, completed 65 passes in 124 attempts for 905 yards. He tossed eight touchdown passes, scored twice on quarterback sneaks, and had nine passes intercepted. Head Coach John Yovisic believes that with Ward back at the T spot his Bullets have an excellent chance of bettering their 1951 record of six wins and three losses.

BEARS BOW TO BROWNS 14-7

NEW YORK (AP)—The start of the National Football League season is four weeks away, but one thing is certain: The Cleveland Browns are still tough to beat.

The Chicago Bears found that out last night in Cleveland, losing a 14-7 exhibition to the Browns.

Ken Carpenter scored both Brownie touchdowns—in the first period on a four-yard plunge, and in the third period on a 29-yard pass from Otto Graham.

Bobby Williams, of Notre Dame fame, passed for the Bears' lone tally in the second quarter, hitting Gene Schroeder with a six-yarder.

Meanwhile, in the first pro football game ever played in Odessa, Tex., the Philadelphia Eagles trimmed the Dallas Texans, 24-7. Ebert Van Buren, Bud Grant, and Ralph Goldston scored the Eagles' TDs, while Bob Walton chipped in with a 23-yard field goal and three extra points.

At Latrobe, Pa., Green Bay's Fred Cone missed a try for the extra point—and that margin was enough for Pittsburgh to nip the Packers, 7-6.

WGCT Will Present Special 'Touchdown Tips' Broadcasts

SAM HAYES

Every Friday evening at 7:15 o'clock, beginning September 5 and continuing throughout the 1952 football season, Sam Hayes, the man who has given over 45,000 touchdowns tips with 80 per cent accuracy, will forecast over station WGCT the probable results of the important

NORWALK WINS LITTLE SERIES

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—The reign of Connecticut teams in the Little League World Series was continued with a last-inning 4-3 triumph of a Norwalk team over Monongahela, Pa.

The New England 8 to 12-year olds, by scoring a pair of runs in the sixth and final inning yesterday, were able to extend their state's streak to two years in a row.

Stamford, Conn., won the title last year. Two years ago still another Nutmeg State team, Bridgeport, was runnerup when Houston, Tex., won the final.

8,400 See Game

An estimated 8,400 enthusiastic fans jammed the original Little League Stadium yesterday as rightfielder Tony De Meglio scored Norwalk's fourth run on relief pitcher Dick Sauer's wild pitch. Ironically, the throw was his first of the game.

In the fifth inning, Sacane, the batting star of the tight contest with a single, double and homer, lofted a ball over the left center field seats to give the Pennsylvanians a 3-2 lead.

In the consolation contest Hackensack, N. J., defeated San Diego, Calif., 2-0 when southpaw Rudy Davis hung up his second victory of the tournament.

Interstate

By The Associated Press

YORK, one of the contenders for a playoff berth in the Class B Interstate League ran roughshod over Harrisburg last night, 19-0.

The batting prece—York gathered 21 hits in the game—moved the White Roses back into third place, a half game ahead of Lancaster and a full game ahead of Wilmington.

Lancaster dropped a 4-2 decision to Salisbury when Jack Tanner clouted a homer for the Eastern Shore team in the 10th inning.

Wilmington meanwhile split with second place Allentown, taking the initial game 2-0, and dropping the nightcap, 10-2.

Hagerstown, the league leader, picked up a half game on Allentown by defeating Sunbury, 6-4.

The Geneva Convention of 1929 was a revision of the Hague Convention of 1899 dealing with prisoners of war.

Beard-Weikert Nuptials Solemnized: Miss Mary Esther Weikert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Weikert, Fairfield road, and John Edward Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Beard, Fairfield road, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Emmert G. Colestock.
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, had Miss Virginia Schneck as maid of honor. Miss Fay Allison and Miss Anna Margaret Beard were the bridesmaids. Nancy Scott was the flower girl.
J. Edward Weikert served as best man. The ushers were Harry Scott and Francis Weikert.
Miss Helen McClellan presided at the organ. Mrs. Donald Weikert sang several selections.
After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride.
Mrs. Beard has been employed by the Farm Bureau Insurance company, Harrisburg. Mr. Beard has been employed by his father.

Redding - Beford: Miss Irene Blanche Beford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Beford, Littlestown, and Corporal Joseph Harold Redding, Fort Belvoir, Virginia, son of B. F. Redding, Littlestown, were united in marriage Saturday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic church, Littlestown, at a low nuptial mass celebrated by the Rev. John H. Weber, rector.
The bride was attended by Miss Anna Redding. The best man was Eugene Redding. The ushers were Thomas Redding and Donald Beford. The altar boys were Donald and Patrick Redding.
Miss A. Marie Budde was in charge of the music.
A wedding breakfast was served, following the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents.
The bride is employed at the Windsor Shoe company, Littlestown.

Dr. E. M. Faber Is Married: Dr. E. M. Faber, son of Mrs. E. S. Faber, 26 Chambersburg street, and Miss Mabel Rhodes, of Baltimore, were married on Thursday by the Rev. Martin Luther Enders, pastor of the First Lutheran church of Baltimore.
Doctor Faber is located at the Chemical Warfare Research Center at Edgewood Arsenal.
The bride is a daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. William L. Rhodes, of Rhodesdale, Dorchester county, Maryland, and has been serving with the Department of Education of the city of Baltimore.

Robert A. Thompson to Open Warehouse: Robert A. Thompson, manager of the G. R. Thompson and Son warehouse, Carlisle street, announces that he will discontinue operating the warehouse here on September 1 and will open his own warehouse at Seven Stars at that time.
Mr. Thompson has been at the local warehouse for 15 years.

McCullough - Allison: Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Allison, Fairfield, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Hester Virginia, to Private Robert McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice McCullough, of Gettysburg. The ceremony, which took place in the Post Chapel at Keesler Field, Mississippi, on August 21, was performed by the Rev. Father Mroczka, post chaplain.
Mrs. McCullough is a member of the faculty of Fairfield high school. Prior to his induction, Private McCullough was employed by the federal government as Acting State Chief of the Research and Records program.

Spangler-Beecher: Miss Thelma Beecher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beecher, Hanover, and John Spangler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spangler, Littlestown R. D., were married last Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Bechtel Pentecostal church, Frederick, Md.

Today's Talk

INSTRUMENTS OF HEAVEN

We do not know why. All we know is that each one of us was made in the image of God, but as such we are but the instruments of his handiwork. We were placed in the world to do his bidding, to be of use, to inspire others, to strive patiently, to perform so as to establish justice and good will in the world among all men, and to reflect the smile of God in the face that is ours.
We are the instruments of heaven! How proud we should be of the heritage that is ours. No other creature has it. Into each one of us God breathed a soul. We are on serious business in this life — perhaps but the brief preparation for one greater — a mere step in the ladder of eternity!

We ought to plant kindnesses, distribute good will, and ease the sorrow and disappointments in people's hearts. We should lend hope, inspire a love of beauty, and by example show what courage patience can do. We should emphasize the quality of life, not of mere materials. Spiritual grandeur far outweighs, far surpasses all the grandeur of earth and its material riches. Without the beat of God in our veins life would lose all its meaning!

The cry from the soul of us all should be: "Here am I — use me. I am an instrument of heaven." God moves in a mysterious fashion, his wonders to perform — he can only use his highest form of creation — man, you and me. Tasks, great ones, await performance. Peace, justice toward all in the world. Intolerance to be crushed everywhere. A new hope of happiness to be established. A world of good neighbors to be cemented. One voice, one world!

God whispers to us all: "Be fully alive. You are bound in a web of rare responsibility. Break loose! Grasp your opportunity. Be that instrument that I meant you to be — an instrument of heaven."
"Is God gives skill, But not without men's hands: he could not make Antonio Stradivari's violins Without Antonio!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Live Abundantly."

BIRTHDAY WISH

May you grow old, and age be kind.
May you leave care and hurt behind,
And may the years give pleasures new
For those they take away from you.
Though grief must come as time goes by,
And you may sadly question why,
By all the memories you have gained
May you be heartened and sustained.

As one by one the years increase
May strife give way to tranquil peace;
May time for you new splendors hold,
May you find joy in growing old.

Woman Joins Instructors at Seminary: With a new professor and two instructors in its faculty, the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary will open its one hundred and seventeenth year Tuesday morning, September 8, with a service in the Church of the Abiding Presence.

Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz will preach the sermon at that service.
The faculty will include the Rev. Dr. Jacob M. Myers as the newly elected professor of Hebrew and Old Testament literature and theology; Dr. Bertha Paulsen as instructor in sociology for two terms and the Rev. Richard C. Wolf as instructor fellow in church history.

Air Field Commandant: Colonel John M. Weikert, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Weikert, McKnightstown, is commandant of the newest United States Air Field, dedicated this week near West Point for Cadet fliers.

Colonel Weikert has been in the Air Corps ever since graduation from West Point in 1923. He has graduated from all the major air courses in the country, has a distinguished flying record, and is highly rated as an instructor.

BEATEN RANKIN HAS CHANCE TO "COOL HIS FIRE"

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Rankin will have time to cool off now. For most of his life he's been as active and blazing as a man with a box of matches on fire in his hip pocket.

Rankin, the tireless champion of white supremacy who had his hand called on the floor of the House of Representatives for throwing around words like "kike" and "Negro" won't be back next year. He had been a member of the House from Mississippi for 32 years. This week the voters of his state turned him down for re-election in favor of a fellow congressman, Thomas Abernethy, who is 49.

Living At 70
At 70, still as lively as boy, Rankin is one of those old men who never seem bruised by the shoving around time gives them. Even his white hair seems to stand up in constant indignation.

Unlike some of his ponderous fellow members, far younger, Rankin could be on his feet in an eye-blink for a fight with his mouth or his fists. Size didn't faze him. His fellow members, presidents or even the Supreme Court were all targets for his tongue and his temper.

In 1945 he swung on Frank Hook, a fellow Democrat from Michigan. Hook, one-time iron ore miner, was a lot bigger man. Rankin had accused Hook of consorting with Communists. When Hook called him a liar, Rankin swung.

Hated Communism

Communism was on his mind. He was one of the most enthusiastic Communist-hunters of his time, a pursuit he developed as chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

He was equally attentive to, and equally against, any civil rights moves by the Democratic administration. He was strictly for segregation of Negroes.

At the same time he championed the Tennessee Valley Authority, rural electrification, and war veterans. Veterans were his special province. He was chairman of the House Veterans Committee.

But for attentiveness to his job, he set an example. Up at six in the morning, he got down to his office before any of his staff. And he knew his way around Congress as few men did.

Had Narrow Squeak

In spite of his shrewdness, events he couldn't control were Rankin's undoing. He lost his job through a reorganization of Congress.

In 16 previous elections Rankin had squeaked through, or breezed through, depending on who his opponent was. He might have kept doing that indefinitely.

But this year the Mississippi Legislature, over his protests, combined his congressional district with that of Abernethy who has been a House member 10 years.

Efforts To Stop R. R. Strike Fail

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis A. O'Neill Jr., chairman of the National Mediation Board, reports an impasse in conferences seeking to avert a strike on the New York Central Railroad's lines east of Buffalo.

He said late yesterday that no more conferences were scheduled between union and company representatives, but that he was "standing by." He said the talks had "reached an impasse."

Union officials have held a threatened strike in defiance during the mediation sessions.
A two-year-old dispute concerns a number of union grievances on working rules.

Democrats Name Senatorial Nominee

NEW YORK (AP)—John Cashmore, borough president of Brooklyn, is the Democratic nominee for U. S. senator from New York.

He will oppose Republican Sen. Irving Ives at the Nov. 4 election. Cashmore was named Thursday on the first ballot after a floor contest at the Democratic State Convention. Ives was nominated by the GOP Tuesday. New York's other senator is Herbert H. Lehman, elected on the Democratic and Liberal party tickets.

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S.A.E.

Considering that automobiles come off the assembly line like sausages it's no wonder they find their way to hot dog stands.

Two Sides To This

There has always been a difference of opinion among car manufacturers as to whether or not the factory service manual should be available to all and sundry or just to the official service stations. Those companies which sell their manuals, usually at a charge of $2.00, believe that there are many times when travelers find themselves facing the need for guidance when far removed from service facilities. Some of the manufacturers believe that it is better to have the owner and whatever mechanic he can find know what the car needs and how a job is done rather than to have them butcher the car and then spread the word that it is a lemon. There are a lot of angles to this, naturally. I find that motorists who own factory manuals usually have a much better conception of the value of their cars.

Eyes To See With

I never will understand why more motorists do not raise the hood and observe the engine while it is being run, both at idle and when speeded up. This often reveals trouble in the making or explains the reason for it. One owner whose engine developed mysterious loss of coolant went for several weeks before a relative suggested taking a look at the engine in action. He suspected that the lower water hose from the radiator to the engine block was sucking inward when the motor was accelerated. But the hose retained its equilibrium and upset this theory. However, when the engine was accelerated a fine spray of water came out the front of the cylinder head where it bolted to the block. Just needed a new head gasket.

Speaking Of Carbon

The question often is asked as to whether regular gas causes more carbon in an engine than premium gas. It is rather a natural query because the matter of quality of the gas is the chief reason for the difference in price. However, the quality differential here is in the relative anti-knock quality of the fuels. Actually the higher priced fuel could be of poorer quality yet perform well so far as checking motor knocking is concerned. About the only way regular gas would cause more carbon would be in requiring the owner to have the ignition timing retarded. The engine would then be more sluggish, even though it would not knock.

Just one more thought before dropping this. When an engine is right on the button and the driver is using premium fuel he may be tempted to drive a little more erratically. Quicker take-offs, and consequently more sudden stops. When he lifts his foot from the accelerator pedal suddenly the pistons suck up more oil. That makes carbon.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Because we tend to compensate our cars by tricks in our own driving habits it is necessary to break these habits after the car's trouble has been corrected. A friend of mine discovered this after a clutch pedal adjustment. Previously it had been necessary for him to press way down on the pedal for complete clutch release, but after the pedal was given normal placement he noticed a slight noise when the pedal was down. This was due to his pressing the pedal down too far and thus putting unnecessary pressure on the throwout bearing."

Exhaust Via Crankcase

While it is true that leaky exhausts are dangerous more attention should be paid to the escape of gases from the crankcase vents and the oil filler pipe. Usually the driver is merely annoyed by the stench of crankcase vapors but is oblivious to the fact that in these vapors are some of the combustion gases which have leaked down past worn piston rings. As a matter of fact the oily vapors are propelled and forced out of the filler pipe and vents by these gases which should be going out the exhaust.

Doing Some Sleuthing

I don't blame motorists for being a bit surprised when they find the engine cutting out at some moderate speed. Recently one owner found that his car would not go over 30 miles per hour, regardless of the fact that it ran well under this speed. Even on downgrades the car wouldn't go much faster under engine power, although it might coast of its own momentum up to racing speed. This action on hills was a good sign that the engine's reluctance wasn't due to vapor lock condition of the fuel because it could hardly have overheated on downgrades.

But where there is such reluctance we can usually follow a few simple avenues to a diagnosis. First check the tension of the breaker arm spring. Weakness here will cause ignition failure as speeds go up. Another possibility is a weak fuel pump. However, if this is the case the engine often will backfire a lot during the warm-up as further evidence of starvation. Then there is the possibility of trouble with carburetor jets, the float or passages. A clogged strainer in the carburetor fuel intake should be suspected. And finally check the exhaust system. It is surprising how much resistance can be caused by a pinched or clogged tail pipe.

By The Beautiful Sea

If you are in the habit of using the car to go to and from the beach where salt water swimming is available be sure to safeguard the car's trimmings. Wet bathing suits that leave drops of salt water here and there are no aid to the preservation of chrome trim. Best way to protect it is to polish and then wax or spray on one of the new plastics. If the car is used as a bathing taxi it is also likely to be standing around for hours in the spray of the sea. Perhaps some under-the-hood protection is in order, too. The owner ought to be a logical prospect for a protective spray or brushed on paint applied to the spark plug wiring, coils and distributor cap.

Music To Our Ears

Sometimes it takes a breakdown to prove a point, although I'd much prefer to see my predictions come about in a simple manner. This time I had said that trouble getting into gear often is due to clutch dragging which, in turn, can be due to troubles with the car's rear. The motorist in this case was assured that the entire car was in fine condition, but shortly after the top leaf of one of the rear main springs broke. After the mess was cleaned up there was no more shifting trouble.

Finis For Mountings

More motorists know that broken or loose motor mountings should be replaced, and loose ones tightened up, but there is little consideration for the mountings that may be oil-soaked from motor leakage. Petroleum lubricants damage rubber, rendering the mounts incapable of giving the engine the support and flexibility it needs.

In The Motor Mail

Q. I am planning to use my car for fishing trips where it probably will receive pretty hard treatment. Friends have told me that the front coil springs won't stand the strain. H. K.

A. Why don't you replace the springs with heavy duty coils? Many sportsmen do this.

Q. What really powers power brakes such as are used on passenger cars? I do not mean air brakes which are found on commercial vehicles. Wm. L. L.

A. These brakes are vacuum operated. Vacuum is created by the engine. Of course, the real power back of all this is atmospheric pressure.

Q. I have been told that the excessive ping of my car's engine is due to a sticky valve. What can I do to check this? H. B.

A. Apparently you have not received too good advice. The ping is due to fuel detonation, incorrect timing, too much carbon, overheating, etc. Of course, poor valving would cause the engine to strain and struggle, but you would get skipping as well and quite a bit of valve racket.

Q. My car darts and dives at a great rate. Sometimes I feel that it is going to throw me into the ditch. Can't something be done about this? R. H. G.

A. Yes, it is a matter of changing the springs on your car. There are other causes of such erratic steering, but check up on the spring rate first.

Q. Recently I changed spark plugs, switching to a colder type. Since then there has been marked improvement in oil mileage. Can you explain to me what would cause this change? K.H.N.

A. One way the new plugs could improve things would be to provide better engine operation. Also it is quite possible that one or two of the old plugs had leaky gaskets. This would permit oil to be sucked up into the respective cylinders. Of course there is always the chance that when the plugs were replaced you switched to better oil or oil of a grade better suited to your driving needs.

Q. What is meant by the term "blow-by"? I hear it mentioned a lot but still am in the dark. H. H. F.

A. Blow-by is escape of power past the pistons and the piston rings into the crankcase. The oil is blown off the cylinder walls. This creates acids in the oil, and may scuff the cylinders.

Q. Is it a good idea to put anything into the cooling system to stop leakage if no leakage has developed? R. F. F.

A. No. The better prevention of cooling system trouble is use of rust inhibitor.

YORK SPRINGS—Mrs. Charles Erb, R. 2, is confined to her home by illness. Her sister, Mrs. Raymond Gingerich, Zion View, who visited at the Erb home with Mr. Gingerich, remained to assist there for a few days. Another sister, Mrs. Hershey, York, was also a visitor, along with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lotman, Baltimore, who have been on a visit to other Adams County friends and relatives.

Mary Louise Fagan has joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fagan, and her five sisters at their Harrisburg home and is preparing to return to school in that city after spending the summer at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Rosa Bream, this section.

Mrs. John Herschok, North York, formerly of this area, has been chosen as a director of the full-time nursery for children three through five years of age of any denomination, to be conducted at the new Jewish Community Center, York, beginning October 1. Mrs. Herschok attended Elizabethtown College and holds a standard teaching certificate with three years experience in the elementary grades in Dauphin County and two in Adams County.

Joel Zepp, near here, continues to improve at Mont Alto Sanatorium where he was admitted several months ago after a long illness. A party of his York Springs neighbors visited him during the past week and others arranged a shower of get-well cards and other greetings.

Tommy Merrifield, York, spent several days here as the guest of his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bower have returned to their Delaware home after spending some days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Parvin Bower. During their visit, their daughter, Kay, spent a part of the time at Camp Nawakwa.

SAYS JUSTICE BUREAU "MOST DILATORY" IN PROSECUTIONS

By HARRY P. SNYDER
WASHINGTON (AP)—House Investigators today charged that the Justice Department has been "most dilatory" in some prosecutions and cited a Detroit war fraud case as "a typical example."

Counsel Robert A. Collier laid before a judiciary subcommittee a number of documents dealing with the Norman E. Miller and Associates, Inc. case which came up in 1944 and was closed in 1951 without prosecution or recovery of government funds.

Collier said Miller was indicted July 14, 1944, on six counts alleging fraud in that he had "knowingly and fraudulently charged indirect time as direct time for his employees in performing under certain government contracts."

In addition to the indictment, Collier said a civil suit was filed by the government seeking recovery of $36,000.

Had Good Case

"Despite the fact that in its early phases the case was described by the justice attorneys as 'one of the best that the department had,'" Collier said, "action was delayed through various devices for over six years at which time both suits were dropped."

Collier told the committee that its staff, after a review of numerous cases in Justice Department files, decided "it is to the best interest of the government to prosecute this case."

teris" that it demonstrate publicly how dilatory the department has been.

Collier said the documents will show:

"Enfeebled With Age"

- 1—The government asked dismissal of the indictment against Miller in October, 1950—six years after it was returned—because it had become "enfeebled with age."
- 2—The FBI and departmental attorneys recommended repeatedly that the case be disposed of;
- 3—The defendant frequently changed attorneys, and each of them appeared to have some influence with prosecuting officials;
- 4—The defendant occasionally refused to answer pertinent questions;
- 5—Inferences can be drawn that special consideration was given to defense attorneys, even to the extent of supplying them with an FBI investigation report on the case;
- 6—The defendant, at one point, offered to settle the case and actually deposited $7,500 with the department; the deposit was returned and he paid nothing on the $36,000 claim;

Was Worth $400,000

7—The defendant's net worth was estimated at some $400,000; 8—The defendant "blatantly" entertained witnesses who had appeared against him in the grand jury proceedings and "actually converted" at least one; and 9—That FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover complained of tactics by defense attorneys to delay prosecution, strongly implied at least attempted bribery, reported that political pressure was being used and urged an early disposition to avoid embarrassment to both the FBI and the Department.

The committee turned to the war fraud phase of its inquiry after hearing charges that Justice Department officials interfered with a tax scandal probe.

The decision to take up the Detroit case came after ranking members of the subcommittee lambasted Justice Department officials for trying to "whitewash" a tax case inquiry by a St. Louis grand jury early in 1951.

RAILROADS AND 17 UNIONS AGREE ON MEMBERSHIP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor has won a big skirmish in its fight for the union shop by persuading Eastern railroads to agree to the compulsory union membership provision.

Long negotiations between the Eastern carriers and 17 non-operating unions ended last night with an agreement giving the unions the right to join the union membership provision.

Spokesmen said that there were important qualifications to the agreement, letting some groups of workers out of the requirement that they become union members. The extent of these exemptions was not immediately determined.

However, a rail management spokesman said the agreement closely followed an emergency board's recommendation several months ago suggesting complete union membership for all the one million non-operating rail workers.

A number of the Eastern carriers already have the union shop agreement. They include the New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Reading, Lehigh Valley and Lackawanna railroads.

Affects Only Portion

So this means that only a portion of the estimated 400,000 non-operating employees of the Eastern carriers will now come under the union shop proviso for the first time, the others having been covered previously.

The emergency board, named by President Truman, recommended that all the nation's railroads negotiate an iron-clad union shop agreement with all the non-operating unions in a single set of negotiations.

However, the Southeastern railroads refused to talk over the matter at all with the unions, and the eastern carriers have negotiated with some reluctance.

Talks between the unions and the eastern carriers broke off a few days ago, but are subject to recall by either side on 10 days notice.

Not Broad Pact

The agreement between the Eastern carriers and the unions apparently was less broad than the emergency board had recommended, since certain groups of employees were left out of the compulsory union membership agreement.

Nevertheless, the pact is a long step forward in the general drive by organized labor to require all workers to belong to labor unions where employers have union agreements.

The last previous showdown on the union shop issue came in the recent steel strike when the union shop was the main point involved in the CIO Steelworkers Union's

New Oxford

NEW OXFORD—Miss Anna D. Hoyer, local dance instructor, presented a large group of her pupils Wednesday afternoon in performances on the lawn of the Hanover Public Library as a part of the annual Library Guild lawn party.

The Mary L. Myers cottage, Dick's Dam, near here, was the site of an outdoor meeting of Lohr's Memorial EUB Sunday School, Sunday.

A number of local persons who were graduates of the Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, spent Sunday at the Adams County Fairgrounds between Abbottstown and East Berlin for the annual alumni picnic.

Mrs. Mary Moul Rudisill has been chosen to teach during the 1952-53 term at Harbold's School, a part of the Conewago Jointure.

Harold Groft, who has been suffering for the past few weeks with an injured foot, has been able to discard his crutches.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Neiderer, Hanover, entertained a group of Hanover young people during the past week at their summer cottage near here when a shower was tendered their daughter, Miss Jean Neiderer, who will be married in early September to Bernard F. Smith, Hanover R. D.

Miss Romaine Nitchman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Firmin Nitchman, Dillsburg R. 1, formerly of near here, has accepted a nursing position in the East Berlin office of Dr. Joseph L. Eshleman, osteopath. Miss Nitchman is a graduate of the school of nursing of the West Side Osteopathic Hospital, West York.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Aumen, formerly of here, with their two young sons, have moved from near East Berlin to the small farm which they purchased recently in the Pigeon Hills section.

There, too, the union had to take a modified form of the union shop — less than the union wanted but still some improvement over "union security" provisions which the steel union had enjoyed previously.

ARE ENEMY PILOTS SOVIETS?

DETROIT (AP) — The jet aces of the Korean War are well aware of who the real enemy is over there.

Eleven of them told the Air Force Association about it, in a symposium Thursday.

Said Maj. James Jabara, 28, the first Air Force jet ace:

"We have never seen the fellows that are flying the MIG. We have never seen the color of their eyes or face. But some of them are not Chinese and not Korean."

"Some of them are very good pilots. They have flown combat missions somewhere else, and they have a lot of jet time. They have not flown all that time in China or North Korea."

Fly 10-15 Missions

To which Col. Francis S. Gabreski, 33, of Oil City, Pa., the top ranking surviving Air Force ace, added that Communist pilots who survive 10 to 15 missions in Korea are "sent back to Russia where their aggressiveness is an important psychological factor in the training of new Red fliers."

Gabreski said that while some pilots approve of the new U. S. gunights, he personally believes that "as long as you open fire within a 1,000 feet range you don't need a complex gunsight."

"Out of range—beyond a 1,000 feet—the gunsight is supposed to be effective, but then the bullet won't reach the target, so it doesn't make any difference," he said.

Trans-Pacific Air Route Is Planned

TOKYO (AP) — Three Japanese airline officials plan to buy planes in the United States for a trans-Pacific air service Japan hopes to inaugurate in the fall. The three executives of Japan's only civilian airline will confer with the U. S. Civil Aviation Board and buy planes from Douglas and Lockheed aircraft companies.
